

SEEBURGER’s Bulgarian Subsidiary Celebrates Their 25th Anniversary

November 22, 2024 – Sofia / Plovdiv, Bulgaria – SEEBURGER’s offices in Bulgaria are celebrating a quarter of a century of growth and innovation in the fields of business integration and digital transformation.

SEEBURGER in Bulgaria – from ambitious beginnings to a leading innovation hub

In 1999, SEEBURGER Informatik EOOD began as a small team of ambitious software engineering students from the Technical University of Sofia. Today, the offices in Sofia and Plovdiv have grown into a thriving hub of innovation, housing a highly skilled team of business integration experts.

Over the past 25 years, SEEBURGER has significantly expanded its operational, managerial and technological capabilities in Bulgaria. The company has remained deeply committed to developing young talent, actively contributing to Bulgaria’s vibrant IT ecosystem and cultivating the next generation of technology leaders.

The Bulgarian teams play a key role in SEEBURGER’s global operations, supporting both the Development department and the Global IT Shared Services Center. The subsidiary now employs professionals across various divisions, including Software Development, QA Automation, Cloud Engineering, Software Support, Technical Consulting, System Administration, Service Management, UI/UX Design and more.

SEEBURGER is looking forward to maintaining a strong position in its international markets by providing future-proof integration technology. As digital transformation accelerates globally, SEEBURGER remains committed to driving innovation that empowers businesses to seamlessly connect their systems, processes and partners. With a focus on scalability, security and sustainability, SEEBURGER will continue investing in cutting-edge solutions, enhancing its integration platform to support emerging technologies such as AI.
